simple to use, highly durable - TM610 HEADSET

Accutone® is proud to introduce a simple yet durable headset solution for call center agents and office users. Most telephone headsets are connected to the telephone via the handset port, with some having an extra headset port. However, standard fixed-line telephone's port connection comes in different configuration and pin-alignment. This is why the TM610 Headset Kit comes with the C100 Telephone Adaptor.

The C100 adaptor lets user select between 12 possible combinations to pair a headset with a telephone. It also offers quick switch between headset/handset connection and a microphone mute button.

The TM610 headset is designed for durability and performance. With its enhanced architecture, the headset is virtually indestructible, perfect for high traffic call centers and demanding office environments. TM610 comes with an enlarged 40mm loudspeaker and noise-cancelling microphone, providing users with top-end voice performance.
